

January 15. Nakile board meeting

January 21. Went to Concession with Hans for a tour of a Herz wood chip boiler system. I certainly wasn't impressed for a couple reasons. The system we saw was for residential and the cost for that size runs in the range of close to $90,000, plus he said you would also need a source of alternate heat. The only upside I saw was the cost to operate compared to electric or oil.
